A showdown in poker refers to the last round of the game ending with only two or three players who are required to reveal their hands to declare the winner of the game. Some players can even choose not to show their hands during the showdown in poker if the appropriate setting is selected before the commencement of the game.

Showdown poker usually occurs very quickly as opposed to other rounds of poker. The showdown in poker happens simultaneously, and the standard protocol needs to be abided by all the players present, meaning they would have to reveal their hands as quickly as possible, even if there is a probability that they would win.

The game doesn't lead up to a showdown in poker if only a single player is left by the end. This means the final player will be declared the game's winner and get to walk home with the pot. This also means the last player in the game wouldn't have to show their cards during the showdown poker. The players who have chosen to auto-muck before the showdown in poker aren't expected to show their cards either.

On the contrary, if a player loses during the showdown poker, they can choose not to show their hands by mucking them rather than revealing them to the entirety of the table. However, the other players playing the showdown poker can ask the dealer for the other hands to be shown even if the player had originally chosen to muck their hands. After the showdown poker, they can view the other players' hands in the hand history.

If there was no bet in the earlier rounds, the same order as the round before could be followed for the showdown in poker, which starts from the left of the button and goes all the way around. If not, the player who bets will finally go first during Texas Hold 'em showdown.

All the cards involved in the showdown have value in poker and should be revealed simultaneously. There is no use in only showing one card that makes the win.

The showdown value in poker can put immense pressure on all the players at the final table, leaving some of them to miss-declare their cards intentionally, influencing the other players' decisions. This is ethically wrong and should be avoided during Texas Hold 'em showdown.

Please do not wait for others to reveal their hands in Texas Hold 'em showdown when it is your turn. Reveal your cards by placing them face up on the table and letting the other players move the baton.
